Documentation for School Enrolment and Expectations

Lee Jia Jin Kristy, Wei-Jun Jean Yeung National University of Singapore 1 March 2024

Documentation for Child Questionnaire, Section E: School Enrolment and Expectations

This section contains caregiver-reported information on children's schooling in the year 2018 to 2019, such as the type of school program in which their child was enrolled, time spent in school, class size, name of school operator, subsidies and out-of-pocket school expenditure, and enrolment in special education or early intervention programs. This section also contains caregivers' reported involvement in their child's school activities, such as homework supervision and participation in parent-teacher meetings, as well as their educational aspirations for their child. The documentation for this section includes a description of information available to users, summary statistics to illustrate broad patterns of school enrolment in the sample, and an identification of potential data issues.

1. School Enrolment (Question E1)

Description. Question E1 asked about the type of school or program in which the child was enrolled at the point of data collection (2018–2019). Caregivers' responses are summarized in Table 1, which depicts the frequency distribution of school enrolment in the overall sample. Table 2 shows the age distribution of children who were not enrolled in any program. Figure 1 illustrates the percentages of day care use among children aged under two years (infancy), and Figure 2 illustrates the percentages of school enrolment among children aged two years and above. All percentages have been adjusted using child-level sampling weights.

Table 1. Summary Statistics for School Enrolment in the Overall Sample

School Enrolled	N (Weighted %)
Infant care centre	90 (1.66%)
Child care centre or nursery school	1,847 (38.14%)
Kindergarten	1,203 (23.97%)
Primary one (i) mainstream schooling (ii) home schooling	419 (8.47%)
Not in any program	1,445 (27.72%)
Missing	1 (0.04%)
Total	5,005 (100%)

Table 2. Age Distribution of Children Who Were "Not in Any Program"

Age Group	N (Weighted %)
Under two years	1,008 (70.11%)
Two to under four years	390 (26.62%)
Four to under five years	24 (1.65%)
Five to under seven years	23 (1.62%)
Total	1,445 (100%)

Note. Four children (0.06%) were reported to be enrolled in infant care centres despite not meeting age requirements for infant care (i.e.,  $\leq 18$  months).

Data Alert. Users should note that caregivers may confuse Kindergarten as a schooling level with Kindergarten as a service model. The service model Kindergarten refers to a half-day program focused on providing education for children typically aged three years and above, as opposed to Child Care Centre, which provides a combination of learning support and full-day care services such as meals, shower, and nap time for children aged between 18 months and six years old. For details on the Early Childhood Development Agency's (ECDA) licensing standards, please refer to https://www.ecda.gov.sg/parents/choosing-a-preschool/choosing-a-preschool-for-your-child. The schooling level Kindergarten (K1 or K2) refers to the label for children who turn five or six years old in the year enrolled.

This issue is exemplified in two ways. First, caregivers indicated in Question E1 that their child (aged five or six, thus at K1 or K2 schooling level) was enrolled in Kindergarten, even though their school operator as indicated in Question E7 was a Child Care Centre (e.g., My First Skool holds licenses for Child Care Centre but not Kindergarten). Second, caregivers who indicated in Question E1 that their child was enrolled in Kindergarten also indicated in Question E4 that their child was attending a full-day program (> 6 hours), but Kindergartens only offer half-day programs ( $\leq$  6 hours) based on ECDA's licensing standards. Both examples suggest that caregivers had reported the schooling level of their child where the school's service model should have been reported.

Another way this issue has affected the data is in the skipping logic (refer to Appendix A, E11 skipping rule), which assumed that children enrolled in Kindergarten were at K1 or K2 schooling level. This is not necessarily true as Kindergartens also cater to younger children at Pre-nursery or Nursery schooling level. The result is that questions originally intended only for children who turn five or six in the year enrolled (Questions E12-E22) were not skipped for children below the target age range.

2. Time Spent in School (Questions E2-4, E8-9)

Description. Caregivers whose children were attending preschool responded to questions about whether their child was attending a full- or half-day program, the time during which their child attended the program, days per week in school, and years and months of school attended. Additionally, caregivers inclusive of those whose children were attending primary school responded to questions about their child's absenteeism due to illness or injury in the current school year.

Data Alert. Users should look out for inconsistencies between caregivers' responses on full- or half-day program and their responses on start and end time. In 191 cases, caregivers indicated that their child was enrolled in a full-day program lasting less than six hours (constituting a half-day program); in another 34 cases, caregivers indicated that their child was enrolled in a half-day program lasting more than six hours and up to 12 hours (constituting a full-day program).

3. School Environment (Questions E5-6)

Description. Caregivers whose children were attending preschool responded to three questions about the number of children, teachers, and staff in their child's class.

Data Alert. Figure 3A-C illustrates the frequency distribution of numbers of children, teachers, and staff in the child's class. Users should look out for responses claiming an unusually large number of teachers or staff. Caregivers might have reported the total number of teachers and staff in school, as it is logistically improbable that a regular preschool would have more than 10 teachers or staff assigned to one class. Other unusual responses include zero children (n = 1) and zero staff (n = 207) in the child's class. We note that caregivers' understanding of "staff" could vary, as some might consider teaching staff to be represented in the number of teachers and also exclude non-teaching staff who were not exclusively "in child's class" (e.g., principal, administrators). For ECDA regulations on the minimum staff (teacher)-to-child ratio per schooling level, please refer to Table 3.

Note. Four missing and "I don't know" responses for number of classmates; seven for number of teachers; three for number of staff.

Table 3. ECDA's Stipulated Minimum Staff-to-Child Ratios by Schooling Level

Class level (Age of Children)	Staff to Children Ratio	Staff to Children Ratio (with an additional Assistant Educarer/Teacher)
Infant (18 months and below)	1:5	Not Applicable
Playgroup (Above 18 – to below 3 years old)	1:8	1+1:12
Pre-Nursery (Children who turn 3 years old during the year enrolled)	1:12	1+1:18
Nursery (Children who turn 4 years old during the year enrolled)	1:15	1 + 1 : 20
Kindergarten 1 (Children who turn 5 years old during the year enrolled)	1:20	1+1:25
Kindergarten 2 (Children who turn 6 years old during the year enrolled)	1:25	1 + 1 : 30

4. School Operator (Question E7)

Description. Caregivers whose children were attending preschool responded to two questions about the broad category and name of their child's school operator. Figure 4 illustrates the weighted percentages of children enrolled in preschools under the Anchor Operator Scheme, preschools under the Partner Operator Scheme, Ministry of Education (MOE) Kindergartens, private school operators, and others.

Data Alert. Users should note the following incongruity in the data: A total of 115 caregivers indicated that their child was presently enrolled in MOE Kindergarten despite not meeting age eligibility requirements (at least five or six years old in the year enrolled).

5. Age of Starting Kindergarten (Question E12)

Description. Question E12 asked about the age at which children started kindergarten. This question was intended only for children at the K1 or K2 schooling level (turning five or six years old in the year enrolled) and should be skipped for children below the target schooling level.

Data Alert. The skipping logic for this question erroneously assumed that children attending Kindergarten (based on caregivers' responses to Question E1) were at K1 or K2 schooling level (refer to Appendix A, E11 skipping rule). This is not necessarily true as Kindergartens also cater to younger children at Prenursery or Nursery schooling level. As observed from Figure 5, caregivers' responses included ages younger than the age eligibility requirements for K1 schooling level (minimally four years old, turning five in the year enrolled). Users should note that children's age upon eligibility for K1 enrolment can be calculated using the formula:

First day of MOE school calendar in Year X — Child's birth date

Where X = Child's birth year + 5

Note. There were 48 missing responses on this variable.

6. School Type (Questions E13-14)

Description. Caregivers responded to questions about school type, including whether their child's school was a public or private school, whether their child had ever attended a private school, and whether the private school was a religious or non-religious school. These questions were intended only for children at the schooling level of K1 and above (at least five years old in the year enrolled).

7. Subsidies and Out-of-Pocket Expenditure (Questions E15-16)

Description. Caregivers responded to questions about school fees, including whether they received subsidies for their child's schooling, subsidy amount, subsidy frequency, whether they paid out of pocket for their child's schooling, expenditure amount, and expenditure frequency. These questions were intended for children at the schooling level of K1 and above (at least five years old in the year enrolled).

8. Special Education and Early Intervention (Questions E17-18)

Description. Caregivers responded to questions about their child's eligibility for special education and early intervention programs, including whether their child had ever been identified as requiring special education, whether their child had ever participated in early intervention programs, their child's age at the start of early intervention, and duration of the early intervention program. These questions were intended only for children at the schooling level of K1 and above (at least five years old in the year enrolled).

9. Caregiver Involvement in School Activities (Questions E10, E19-22)

Description. Caregivers responded to questions about their involvement in their child's school activities, including whether they set rules about when and where their child should do homework, whether they checked their child's homework, and the number of times they had volunteered at their child's school or attended a parent-teacher meeting in the past year. These questions were intended only for children at the schooling level of K1 and above (at least five years old in the year enrolled).

10. Caregiver's Educational Aspirations for Their Child (Question E23)

Description. All caregivers indicated the highest level of education they expected their child to achieve, ranging from no formal schooling to a postgraduate Master's or doctoral degree.
