

Tenth Global Studies Conference

Founded in 2008, the Global Studies Conference is held annually in different locations around the world, each selected for its particular place in the dynamics of globalization. Intellectually, the conference takes three steps: the first is a “this-worldly” step, mapping the details and extrapolating to big picture analyses in order to interpret what is at times challenging, dangerous and excitingly positive about the “New Globalization.” The second step is to set this New Globalization in the context of earlier globalizations—what are the continuities, and what is genuinely new? The third step is to re-examine and redefine the very concept of globalization—in theoretical, anthropological, and philosophical terms. The conference works between the most fastidiously empirical and profoundly generalizing modes of engagement with one of the central phenomena of our contemporary existence.

We invite proposals for paper presentations, workshops/interactive sessions, posters/exhibits, colloquia, virtual posters, or virtual lightning talks.

8–9 June
2017

National University of Singapore

Conference Partner

Global Studies Programme, Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences, National University of Singapore

Plenary Speakers

Subrata Mitra, Director, Institute of South Asian Studies, National University of Singapore, Singapore

Mohan Dutta, Head, Department of Communications and New Media, National University of Singapore, Singapore

Evi Fitriani, Head, International Relations, University of Indonesia, Indonesia

Tim Bunnell, Associate Professor in the Department of Geography at NUS and Editor of the Singapore Journal of Tropical Geography

2017 Special Focus

Global Mobilities

onglobalization.com/2017-conference onglobalization.com/2017-conference/call-for-papers onglobalization.com/2017-conference/registration