

NUS Department of Japanese Studies Workshop

UNDERSTANDING SOCIAL GROUPS OF THE MARGINS AND MODERNITY: TOWARDS THE DEVELOPMENT OF COLLABORATIVE INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH BETWEEN NUS AND OCU

On November 29, a group of professors from Osaka City University (OCU) will be at NUS for a one-day workshop to present their research on topics spanning the general theme of marginalised groups in Japan and Asia, with a view to exploring further collaborative opportunities between NUS and OCU. This bilingual workshop will comprise presentations by OCU, commentary by NUS' professors, as well as time for Q&A and discussion. It will be conducted over two sessions in Japanese and English respectively, with translation and/or interpretation provided for both.
