

なんか

4th International Workshop on
Japanese Language and Interaction

そのお
まあ...

"Filler"-like Objects in Japanese Interaction

August 26-29, 2019 Venue: AS8 05-50, Meeting Room

The Department of Japanese Studies at the National University of Singapore is honoured to host the 4th international Workshop on Japanese Language and Interaction. This year's theme is "Filler-like objects in Japanese Interaction".

This year's workshop is convened to explore some linguistic resources in everyday conversation, focusing on the objects that have been often termed as "fillers" (e.g., koo, nanka, maa, anoo, sonoo, eeto, etc) through the examination of video-recorded naturalistic data in various contexts. All the data and discussion is in Japanese.

Programme

DAY 1 Monday, August 26
9:30-12:00	Data Session	"nanka" (1)	Makoto Hayashi & Satomi Kuroshima
12:00-13:00	Lunch
13:00-17:00	Data Session	"nanka" (2)	Makoto Hayashi & Satomi Kuroshima
Day 2 Tuesday, August 27
9:30-12:00	Discussion	Publication plan	Tomoyo Takagi
12:00-13:00	Lunch
13:00-17:00	Data session	"Filler-like" objects appearing in Word Search (1)	Shuya Kushida
18:00-	Dinner
Day 3 Wednesday, August 28
9:00-12:00	Data session	"Filler-like" objects appearing in Word Search (2)	Shuya Kushida
12:00-14:00	Lunch
14:00-17:00	Data Session	"maa" (1)	Tomoyo Takagi & Emi Morita
Day 4 Thursday, August 29
9:00-12:00	Data Session	"maa" (2)	Tomoyo Takagi & Emi Morita
12:00-13:00	Lunch
13:00-15:00	Discussion	What we have found about "koo", "eeto", "anoo" and "sonoo". What's next?	Tomoyo Takagi & Emi Morita

あのお

ええと