This is a sample document and is subject to change.

Application for undergraduate admission to the NUS Department of Social Work via the Social Work Talent Admission Route (STAR)

The Social Work Talent Admission Route (STAR) seeks to identify students who demonstrate strong aptitude and motivation for the social work profession. Through a holistic assessment process, STAR recognises applicants with the values, passion, and commitment essential to social work – beyond academic results alone.

Applicants may be admitted on the basis of demonstrated aptitude and interest in social services, leadership, community service, and/or exceptional talent. They must also demonstrate potential to contribute meaningfully to society as future social work leaders and meet the minimum level of academic requirements.
