Language requirements

FRENCH TRACK STUDENTS:

We require a minimum of B1 level in French according to the CEFRL. We do not require an official French language certificate but trust our partner universities to check their nominated students' language level.

A certificate from a French language teacher is required for the student's online application if the student does not have an official language certificate.

ENGLISH TRACK STUDENTS:

We require a minimum of B2 level in English according to the CEFRL (IELTS 6) when their level in French has to be under B1 (courses taught in English are for beginners in French).

We do not require any official language certificates but trust our partner universities to check their nominated students' language level both in English and French.

Both a certificate from a French language teacher and one from an English teacher are required for the student's online application if the student does not have an official language certificate.

Application procedure

On-line registration. Each nominated student will receive an e-mail with the web link.

Documents to be submitted with the application

COURSES

FRENCH TRACK

Since 2010 when the English track was created, Sciences Po Bordeaux has made the distinction between French track and English track students. The majority of the French track courses will be taught in French among a wide range of courses in the field of political sciences, international relations, economics, European studies, law or social sciences.

See “Language requirements” above.

ENGLISH TRACK

Since 2010, Sciences Po Bordeaux has offered an English track to students enrolled in the framework of its partnership agreements with English speaking universities. A wide range of courses in Social Sciences, Humanities and Economics is offered. The programme also includes a course of French as a foreign language and various subjects at Bachelor and Master Level. More information:

See “Language requirements” above.

REGISTRATION

Students cannot register for courses before their arrival in Bordeaux.

Students will have to register for courses before September 20, 2019 for 1st semester courses and exams and January 24, 2020 for 2nd semester courses and exams. Registration for courses is definitive. After these dates, no add and drop will be allowed. Students can register either in 1st, 3rd or 4th year courses.

COURSE LOAD

A regular student at Sciences Po Bordeaux has to obtain 30 ECTS per semester or 60 ECTS for one academic year.

CEP (Certificat d'Études Politiques à titre étranger) – programme entirely taught in French

The CEP is reserved for whole year students. To be admitted, students must:

- not be of French Nationality
- have at least a B2 level in French according to the CEFRL
- have validated two academic years in political sciences
- take (and pass) 2 written tests: analysis of documents in French (3h) and a test of French (1h30) in September at Sciences Po Bordeaux.

CEP programme:

- participate in and pass 3 seminar courses “conferences de méthode”: Contemporary Issues (Culture générale), Political Studies, French Language and Culture. Each of these seminar courses takes place over 24 weeks, from September to April (one seminar of 90 minutes per week per course). Validation is determined by evaluation of student participation (continuous assessment) and results of written and oral tests. 8 ECTS each.
- obtain 36 ECTS credits (choosing from general courses offered in the 1st, 3rd and 4th years). The compulsory course “Les Institutions Politiques Françaises” in the first semester is included in the 36 ECTS. Evaluation may take place either in December or May (written or oral exams) depending on the course.

The CEP is awarded to all candidates who obtain 60 ECTS and have passed the 3 seminar courses.

AEP (Attestation d'Études Politiques à titre étranger)

The AEP is based on the same programme as the CEP (see above) but offered to one-semester students.

The AEP is awarded to all candidates who obtain 30 ECTS and have passed the 3 seminar courses.

EXAMS

Exchange students have specific exams. They cannot take their exams with regular students.

December 12 – 18 (included)	1 st semester exams
April 27 – May 13 (included)	2 nd semester exams

There is no re-sit exam. We recommend students to take more credits than necessary. Students cannot choose how and when they want to do their exams.

VISA

As an international student at Sciences Po Bordeaux, you will need to go through mandatory administrative formalities. Non-EU students will have to apply for a VISA (a student one) at the nearest French consulate or embassy before coming to France. You can submit your visa application online, through the CEF (Centre pour les Etudes en France). Students studying for a full academic year will first get a VISA to enter France and will then have to apply for a residence permit.

Useful website: <https://www.campusfrance.org/fr/visa-long-sejour-etudiant>

HEALTH INSURANCE

EUROPEAN UNION CITIZENS - Students must have the European Health Insurance Card.

NON-EUROPEAN UNION CITIZENS - Students will have to register to the French Health Care system (Sécurité sociale) through CPAM (<https://etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr/#/>) before their arrival. It is free and they will have to do the registration by themselves and upload a copy on the online application.
