

Organized by NUS Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

FASS Gender and Sexuality Research Cluster:
Graduate Research Symposium on Gender and Sexuality 2022

Venue: AS7 01-02, The Shaw Foundation Building, FASS

In-person link: <https://forms.office.com/r/WmFELfmBHv>
Zoom link: <https://nus-sg.zoom.us/j/6vrjgsGt0JevfEp1xAFnpJfOolqF-A>

17 NOVEMBER 2022 (Thursday) – Singapore Time

12:30 - 12:35 WELCOME AND INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

A/P Rebecca STARR | Department of English, Linguistics and Theatre Studies

12:35 – 13:35 SESSION - 1

Moderator:
Ranjita
DILRAJ

“Fashioning an identity”: Wearing virtual fashion in Decentraland

NG Wi Eni | Department of Communications and New Media

You are so beautiful and Cisheteronormative:

Mediatisation of gender essentialism in China’s reality TV Show

LI Xinyu & WONG Yut Yeng | Department of English, Linguistics and Theatre Studies

From sajjiao to jiaziyin: Constructing and satirizing femininity on Chinese social media

YU Zichuan | Department of English, Linguistics and Theatre Studies

13:35 – 14:55 SESSION - 2

Moderator:
Pavithra
NANDANAN
MENON

A work undone: The colonial and Chinese perception of female sex work in late nineteenth century colonial Singapore

LEE Pei Sen | Department of Chinese Studies

“Docile bodies” and the network - Constructing the self in trans* communities

Vikramaditya Gaur SHARMAI | Department of Communications and New Media

Stop blaming the “bad apples”: The structures of misogyny and staff sexual misconduct

NG Qian Qian & GIMALIEVA Leyla | Department of Political Science

Of creepiness and masculinity: Mediatization of okama characters in popular shōnen anime

Vincent PAK and A/P Mie HIRAMOTO | Department of English, Linguistics and Theatre Studies

Break

15:30 – 16:30

SESSION - 3

Moderator:
Zishan LAI

Selling femtech in Instagram: The human body and the content of digital advertisements in Japan
Angela Louise C. ROSARIO | Department of Communications and New Media

Understanding the roles of women in mitigating food insecurity in post-COVID-19 Singapore

Norazim AZAMI | Department of Sociology and Anthropology

The dual plights faced by women in the context of Family Planning Policy between 1965 and 1985

FAN Shiyu | Department of Malay Studies

16:30 – 16:35 CLOSING REMARKS

Dr YUEN Shu Min | Department of Japanese Studies