FAQs

1. My first SEP offer is to a non-Southeast Asian partner university. However, I am now interested in an exchange in Southeast Asia. Can I apply?

FASS: Yes, you can still apply.

2. How to I increase my chances to be placed in a Southeast Asian partner university?

FASS: Keep your UEs for SEP. The courses taught in English are limited and keeping your UEs for SEP allows you more choices in terms of courses. Do your research on the faculties/schools offering English courses via the partner universities' factsheets.

3. My first SEP offer is to Southeast Asia, could I apply to another Southeast Asian partner university for my second SEP application?

FASS: Yes, it is possible.
