Dean's Merit Scholarship

The Dean's Merit Scholarship commenced in the 2018 admissions exercise as an entrance scholarship for students admitted to FASS.

From AY2021/22, with the establishment of the College of Humanities and Sciences (CHS), the entrance scholarship will be converted to a mid-stream scholarship for Year 3 students from FASS majors in the Asian Studies, Humanities and Social Sciences Division. Up to 10 awards may be given out in each year comprising 4 awards from the Asian Studies Division, 3 awards from the Humanities Division and 3 awards from the Social Sciences Division.

From AY2026/27, the Scholarship will be converted to an entrance scholarship. Students must be Singapore citizens and will be selected from applicants who have applied for admission scholarships from NUS. There is no separate application process.

The award quota for each Division will be removed. Up to 10 awards may be given out in each year to Year 1 students in any FASS major (1st major), regardless of Division. Additional awards will be given out (including 2nd majors) and the exact number of awards varies based on availability of funds.

To align with other FASS entrance scholarships, the value of the Scholarship will be increased to $4000 each, tenable for one year.

Students who accept the Scholarship must declare an FASS major at the beginning of their first semester to receive the disbursement.
